Melania Geymonat Ramirez

has completed the following course:

HEALTH TECHNOLOGY ASSESSMENT IN PRACTICE THE UNIVERSITY OF GLASGOW

---

In this course, learners are equipped with the necessary skills to develop an understanding of HTA guidance and processes in different jurisdictions through exploring case studies on the use of HTA in different contexts

STUDY REQUIREMENT

3 weeks, 6 hours per week

LEARNING OUTCOMES

- Debate how different HTA bodies make trade-offs between costs and benefits to make appropriate judgements/decision-making
- Explore the wider context in which HTA exists – health systems, guidance, evidence
- Investigate different roles and structures of HTA bodies

SYLLABUS

- The contribution of health technology assessment to health care decision making to-date
- The further potential for health technology assessment to promote universal health coverage, in particular, in low- and middle-income countries
